Issue 497
Date: September 17, 2009
Time: Thursday afternoon (6 pm)

I reach out to connect to you again and greet you and recognise you as your light form and ask you to acknowledge your light form. In this light form you are already prepared to meet on other planes of existence to come into the widened experience of more dimensions than the physical 3rd plane of the Earth and your light form recognises the expansion in consciousness available to bring forward into its own beingness and therefore in your current life experience and into all other life experiences witnessed through your own consciousness. This light form I connect easily with and bring you with me into the entranceway of the vessel of light through this portal.

"I welcome you here into this receiving area. Orem speaking with you, representing the group here of our level of awareness where we are watchful of you and where we are always waiting to receive you. This is possible because of our existence across levels of time through different areas of existence through different dimensions.

We initially greet you in this space because it is a transition area for you as you adjust to the different frequency here and you attune and expand your senses. Already you will be acknowledging the greater number of beings around you and as such we bring you forward as a group into the communication chamber itself and here you are able to absorb the impulses that are available to you in this present moment.

Each of you will be receiving on a different level, although you are exposed to the same impulse presented to you and this itself is transformed to you through the different layers of existence - patterns that are already presented to you and which you need to recognise once more, and patterns that you may be unfamiliar with even in your light self. Because they are presented to you here, at some level of your consciousness you are able to accept them and may already have experienced the level of existences coming forward to be recognised by you again and these may be super intelligent levels of consciousness that you may wish to expand into, or these may well be other forms of life than a human physical form. Whatever it is that you need to experience at this time for your evolvment is here, therefore use all your perceptions to link initially with the highest aspect of your self and with those of us present who are presenting this energy information to you.

As you have progressed through these transmissions you will be aware that the information is not always presented in words. It comes to you in patterns, in codes that are received through you in different ways and these you adapt to and these you understand as you are ready to understand them.

As one group and as one entity you are moving across time. You are moving through the unfoldment presented to you in the levels of consciousness here and different planes of being and these would say to you that already you are working and existing consciously in different levels of life. There is a purpose between all these and these are inter woven into your present existence because in your present existence you are enabling change, you are making new creations available both to yourself and the rest of the group of beings also linked with your level of vibration and consciousness. In exposing yourself to what is presented in these transmissions you are becoming more connected into a purer line of existence and as you draw more people with you, there is a greater expansion and you all can proceed together as a group.

Already you will be feeling a shift even as you are positioned here in this communication chamber. This exposes you to a higher frequency pattern. You may be experiencing this as a change in the intensity of light, or a group of beings coming forward to greet you and this occurs in these moments when you pass through barriers you might think were there in the levels of consciousness."

"You have indeed passed into another passageway of a portal presented to you - a great opening in consciousness and as such through this portal we come to you in the presentation as the body known as Star Elders.

We can witness you here in what comes forth within your light body and its composition of layers of intelligence, layers of the entity that we see coming forward committed to serving the exact proportion of energy and information coming forward into the world around you. If you are still in this moment with us we will give to you images of change in how you will go about your life and how there are aspects of life on Earth at present being smoothed out. Some are being uplifted, and all the while, you are part of that change. You are here in this precise alignment of a greater order passing through you and this will be affecting all parts of your life.
