Issue 499
Date: October 01, 2009
Time: Thursday afternoon (2 pm)

Link with me and come forward into the energy of your light self, your light energy form filled with absolute perfection and filled with the knowledge of expanding evolution around you. Come forward with the many who link in with the transmissions with you and come forward with all those beings on Earth who receive energy through you and the connections you make. Come forward with me into the receiving area of the command station.

"Here we welcome you and greet you dear one, every one, every being, in your essence, and as such we also welcome all parts of your physicality, because you are one unit. It is in this light form of you that we can assess you and give you the pure energy vibrations and frequency which in turn your body responds to. So it is that you who come forward are the receiving part of your entire unit and we connect you in many layers and dimensions. A sorting out process occurs in this initial greeting for you, for many of you respond to different words but also to the different elements of creation that you are expecting to receive that you would need.

Now, come forward with us to the greater communication chamber and here we speak of an assembly area, but also it is a transportation area where you can move across time and in the energy flows required for you. As you listen to these words, or read the words and receive the energy which comes forth, you will receive your own pattern of information. Some of this you will interpret directly in goings on in your everyday life, and others you understand on a very deep level, responding to your search for connections. There is this great interweaving of patterns and codes in the information.

You are developing the greater sense where many of you have moved forward in recognition of your place within this overall connection and in the deliverance of what the essence is within these messages as they relate to the hierarchy of beings overseeing the upliftment on Earth. In this way many of you have been receiving the pattern of different speakers - different Commanders we speak of them as, for in this sense they draw you together and they deliver unto you specific instruction in one way or another and it is conveyed in many ways - in dreams or by the presence that you recognise as individuals.

In your acceptance of that, you are accepting the information that is brought forward to you in different patterns, and there are many of you who have been working, distinctly recognised in your individual pattern and you have been feeling the effect of this physically. Many of you have disturbed sleep patterns in different time sequences and many of you have been feeling you have been working so hard you need to rest and also in those times when your energy systems are low you may be prone to symptoms reflecting as low energy, as picking up a particular bug, catching a disturbance - all these are because you are out of phase with the energies and your systems need to be infused again with the power of the light that directly restores all your systems to balance and well-being.

Allow yourself here to receive again that connection to your point of origin as it brings forward the connections consciously to all your systems and your greater blueprint. Let this settle through you again, continuing the process of the re-encoding of you which in turn releases the older patterns from you and ignites in you a greater passion and a greater ability to bring forward the energy of the greater universe speaking to you and speaking to others and bringing forth the order and repatterning of Earth.

We give you here great energy to serve the clearance from you and to bring you into a deeper alignment with the processes brought forward through these transmissions."

"We speak to you about the greater sequencing patterns occurring for you and collectively we speak as different entities to you, called forth in presentation of the Star Elders. You may see what we are wearing, portrayed to you as a level of uniformity here. You also are wearing particular uniform energy systems. There is a part that you may see visibly as insignia that you wear that corresponds to those of us speaking individually to you, and this conveys a greater level of connection to you. The communication patterns therefore are very important in how you allow yourself to receive what is given to you. Every aspect of you that adjusts to this means that you are working, serving what is presented to you in an outward way as an expression to those around you.

You can be relaxed in this, for it is an informal process, in the sense that you are not strictly confined and you are not strictly ordered as such. It is how you respond to the communications that is important in the way you present them outwardly, of who you are, and most important of course, you need to be relaxed and free.
