Date: November 19, 2009
Time: Thursday evening 8 pm

I open this portal and ask you to come through with me, continuing our journey as I bring you into this space, and then it is for your great light self and the higher aspects of you, to come into perfect alignment and attunement, sending that vibration of resonance throughout you, deeply within your physical form and allowing your highest aspect to be the overseeing part of you. So, together connected in this way, because on that level we are connected in one consciousness, we move together into the space of light, into the receiving area initially.

“You are welcome here, Orem addressing you in this space ready to receive you and to bring you forward away from all pressures that you have experienced in your daily life and into a higher understanding of the events developing and also the magnificence developing in the realities that you move into as you focus more into the prime purpose of life.

As I bring these words and energy to you, it allows all ones to come into assembly here and to adjust the different layers and levels of awareness so that you receive fully the vibration which sets up understanding within all of you. The understanding is, at it were, codes that reveal certain elements of creation to you.

So, with this we bring you forward into the communication chamber. We bring you forward in such a way that you will be fully open and enjoy the changes experienced here, enjoy the freedom and you will be assured that the messages you will receive, for they go beyond word and if while listening to this message you do not hear every word, you are still experiencing the journey and the information and this will be processed. This will be received by your great consciousness and you will adapt to a higher level of creation.

Creation is an unfolding part of the experience that is the universe coming forward and evolving. The evolvment and the new creations arise from the greatest attunement you have to the element of creation. All of this synchronises the aspects within your energy field and we have been bringing you into this space so that your energy field expands, is strong and clear and you vibrate in harmony with all that the universe is. Of course you understand that there are different beings who are present in every reality, some of whom simply oversee the process and give forth joyful, loving attention and others will deliberately give to you certain ideas that stimulate creative thoughts and then you bring that into work, into a manifested form out of the idea.

The wholeness of this together is to ensure that you as a conscious being can use the energy to be as clear as you can and therefore you bring in the strongest manifested ideas in accordance with the pure unfolding elements of creation. Many digress and diverse and choose to adapt a creation which alters the frequency.

We are working with the impulses to recreate and to bring about the harmony and resonance of all of creation to this central point that we speak about. We speak about your point of origin, which is the point relative to the resonance within the universe. Perfect - you would say, and this indeed gives you the expression of what the greater universe is and what consciousness is.

So, as you receive this energy impulse in this transmission, you are embracing many layers of creation. You are enfolding a great deal and as you do that, you are moved to expand and expand and to come into the realisation of the powerfulness there is as you, as your consciousness.

There is another level again where you are with us and we are working together as a team and we are present existing in a specifically formed creation vessel and this holds you together in this space, for there are the elements of your thought patterns and creation that need structure, so structure exists but the structure you are in here is quite different to your earth plane structures. You will see many different structures in these spaces we bring you to within this vessel of light and you bring in many people with you here.

You might choose to go into a place of peace that you would recognise as a place of peace and sit with people and communicate with them in some level, in some way and this would allow you to share your experience of greater levels of creation with others who have not yet been in that state. And as you share and allow visions and understanding and the joyful lovingness to come out to other people, you are filled with more, and even as you speak to others, your consciousness goes out to another level and even in this day in your daily communications you may find at times you are saying something to people, or listening to someone in conversation, but your level of awareness is far beyond that and you are reaching into the depths, as you know it, of your knowledge
