Thank you for linking in with these transmissions. Do you see me, as I reach out to make a link to be with you? Do you see my energy form?

Slowly we move together to connect in with a greater group, until we become aware that we are already within the receiving area of this vessel of light from where these transmissions come through to us, and it is here that already we sense the increase in energy.

"Greetings this day to you Beloved, each and every one recognised within the greater system of energy.. Orem addressing you here as I wait until you all focus your attention here and then it is that we move you into the greater communication area.

You see, there are these distinct layers and levels that you can identify with. In this space you would feel the movement around you of particular groups gathering and you would feel the intensity of the vibration increase.

In some areas there is a focus on purpose and a focus on bringing forth the energy that connects into you through your light form that is present here and that part conveys all the linkages into the different passages of receptivity throughout your physical unit and all that is encompassed within the mind energy and the cellular memory, all layers indeed that are manifested as you.

In here, in the beginning of this transmission, we acknowledge you and the commitment that you have renewed within you, for we know that you have taken within you the particular parts of the messages that relate to you and that have inspired you and brought you into this position here.

Already you feel you have moved away from other aspects of your life you may have said have bothered you and already you are receiving the greater input and impulses of energy. These do come to you in the sense of separate impulses, greater intensity at times and other times there is a gentle flowingness and we convey these to you in the various segments of our transmissions.

Also, we are always gentle with you, for we understand the changes that you must realise take place throughout you and your willingness to allow the change to occur, to settle into the acknowledgement of the greater power that you can represent around you.

At times you may feel that you have chosen particular experiences in your life and if you realise that, you also have the opportunity to choose differently and to change what has been around you.

When there are sufficient of you connected into the pure line of the energy matrix, you can make a shift in the energy as it comes through around Earth and a shift in the greater consciousness of the levels that people focus into.

So, with your commitment you already have the responsibility to be in line with the greater matrix of energy, the greater intention of the unfolding upliftment of the universe in its creative sense itself and beingness and expression. All these words represent the wholeness of what we speak to you about.

The doors are open here for you to acknowledge the presence of the greater beings of information energy systems to you present here, and I draw your focus into those groups we refer to as the Star Elders, again coming forth to be with you."

"We uphold you in this space Beloved, a space that expands and transports you into a further aspect of the unfoldment in the dimensions. Here it is you stand between manifested realities and in this space is the greater power and energy that you can take within you, as you align yourself into this phase around you.

There is much need that you recognise for a smooth operation around and within and throughout the Earth station and in that smoothness and in your recognition of experiences which people have in the physical Earth life, you also must recognise the continuation of existence of the consciousness of each being and also recognise the power of each consciousness present and the greatness that can occur when there is the opening within the individual understanding to present themselves into a different portal - into a different space, and to gather in the energy that is available to every being to utilise, to assist them in whatever experience they are moving through. Even you in your - you might say ordinary daily life - has the presence of this greater power available to you.
