Time: Thursday evening 8 pm

As I open the portal this night I have the sense of many people waiting to come through, eager for the collecting up that I do as I reach out to link with you and help you step through this portal. Even though you probably do that many times yourself, when we become linked together for another step of the journey, it is like a new doorway opening, and this is the feeling I have as I draw you to me and we move to connect with the vessel of light in this great Command Station. We move immediately into the receiving area. Streams of people coming forward in here this night.

"Orem with you dear ones as I greet you and welcome you and draw you deeper within this space, for it is upon you to read the signs that have been given you within the messages and within your thoughts and within your dreams. There have been many messages given to you.

At this time here the energy comes forth to bring you into a state of readiness, where you may feel that your physical body is deeply at rest, in a state of being motionless, while this other aspect of you is keen to step forward and to try this new aspect of you living within a different framework. Already some of you have woken to the fact that circumstances around you have changed, in particular with reference to where you focus into, what you would have around you in your thoughts and beliefs and the attitude deep within you where you find you are smiling at what is going on around you and for you. As many openings occur for you to move smoothly through your choices and through other aspects of life that you are experiencing at this time.

With this assistance you are receiving, we assist you now to come deeper within to the communication chamber itself. There are new beings gathered here. Again there is the continuation of the upliftment of what we say as new beings. New they are to this type of presentation and to the experience where they are lifted up in their dream state and shown that they are supported and assisted. This is occurring for many of you, but those of you who are familiar with these spaces and the upliftment programme, will be unaware of this new phase because you have already come forward and you are participating in the upliftment programme yourself from the point of view of being an assistor. So, with this in place in many of you, feel deep within your emotional heart space the love and gratitude for your ability to be there for others in their need and to share an understanding that the universe is changing as they would know it to have been.

While some people are still experiencing the surfacing of deep emotional problems and disturbances, many more now are moving into the sense of rightness, peace and harmony.

If you can experience this now, regardless of what you have been handling in your outer life, then the peace that you know to be the true state of your life is reflected out to everyone in all your dealings.

In this space now we would encompass you all in the perceived unfolding of the dimension that allows more of creation to come forward around you. Take this energy into you whereby you can see the creations that are needed in different spaces. You would be seeing through the eyes of a greater observer and the observer is a level of consciousness coming through you, ready to change many things in respect of the Earth development and here it is upon you to recognise the signposts that you have been sensing are coming for you to see.

These are indications of a great embarkation from the Earth system and the travelling forth will be into that level of the existence of the joined and connected cities of light in this consciousness now about you. There is a glorious celebration in this happening and you have moved yourself forward, allowing yourself the freedom and space to be aligned properly into the position which you can link with in the greater cities of light for you. These will present themselves around you in your common circumstance. Then you will understand they are close to you and each time you immerse yourself in the light that appears before you, you then are able to be sustained in that element of creation unfolded and revealed to you. This is another important phase that we wish you to recognise is occurring.

You may also understand that there will be a great effort on the part of many people to maintain control of populations in such a way that you need to be aware that you can be different in your approach to life and you can satisfy yourself that what you need will come your way, in terms of your daily support, in terms of nourishment, in terms of many things that you need that you may
