I open the Omega Communications for this link and reach out to make contact with you all. Together we then move into the receiving area of the vessel of light, moving forward within that aspect of you that is your light form that contains your consciousness and yet it is the same as your present form, with a purified look about it. It seems that it is only the dense physical that accumulates and reflects the impressions and experiences and all emotional reactions you have experienced. So without those you are indeed in a purified energy light form, easy to be amongst beings also having cleared themselves of many of these emotions and working toward assisting the planet and being fully aligned to the universal creative essence.

"Orem coming forward to you here Dear one and I greet you and welcome you into this space.

We continue the preparation of you to move forward and to be as one in a connected network, where you have the ability to move forward into the open gateways that are presented to you to evolve and to bring through information and energy which helps to dissipate the impressions and distinct energy patterns of disturbance that come over your particular area of existence because you are important at this time in the whole unfoldment and presentation of the Earth station back into a state where it is prepared to resonate with a higher frequency pattern, therefore able to move into a more intergalactic connection and communication, where you understand the unfoldments that come through only come to those who are able to accept the trust of working in a focused intention to move forward into a restorative pattern for the Earth and the planetary system of the Earth.

It is only you who have come forward, in such a way as you are receiving these transmissions, which show you have trusted your own procedures to come to this point and it is only you who have also adjusted to the frequency in such a way that you are able to move forward into the prepared crystalline cities of light to hold those ones of you of pure intention. You know there are many around you who have followed different pathways who would not adapt and accept the possibility of these particular spaces of higher energy existences which support ongoing life which promote health and stability throughout every aspect of the life patterns that you are connected with.

In consideration of what you see around you happening on the planet's surface and structure, we always attend to these matters and we hold your linkage in a stabilised network and this is what the universal matrix is. In its highest energy sense it is a stable connective network, as you would understand that to be, although as you are in your present circumstances and experiences you may see that just as a 3rd dimensional being-existence. This goes beyond that into a multi dimensional and multi layer presence and you are working with it inasmuch as you can work with it. It is the higher aspects of you who are already into different layers and presentations of it and you are moving forward in a synchronised pattern to come to the places where you are greeted by different beings, and the Star Elders are such who greet you, and they facilitate your evolvment and movement forward as you participate in the releasing of the restrictions that have been around you. Many of you have come from atmospheres and training organisations that have enclosed your thinking into one line presented to you and in taking the steps to seek always the greatest depth of understanding that you can has enabled you to come through in this fashion through these portals presented to you. So, many of your studies have led you to appreciate that they were not assisting in evolution but were focussing on reliving past aspects of life experiences and there was a great focus on what you termed your past life experiences and you wanted to relive those, many of you, but again that is recycling you in that same level, so when you come to appreciate that you have evolved through that, you are able to come into the higher existence.

It is in these levels now that you are feeling that you need more information and more energy to keep you focused above what you witness around you on the planet. This indeed assists you in your own personal attunements in your daily practices. You will find following the receipt and absorption of each of these energy transmissions to you that your personal attunement times take you into a greater appreciation of your life, a greater gratitude of what is occurring and the clear spaces around you that you feel. This will reflect to you your progress. that you are achieving what you would wish to achieve and connecting you into the spaces that you know exist in a pure line of existence.

In this present transmission what is being given to you around the words will be lifting you up. Do you sense that, arising from deep within you in the core essence of your being giving you streams of more information personally, and some of you we see are receiving this as if they are keys that are unlocking areas within you that you knew existed and this will present itself to you in waves of energy and images. You are welcomed into these higher spaces and you are initially given energy in a sense that you would perhaps breathe it in or take it into as you identify with the way you take in energy presently in your physicality.

The wavelengths that you are receiving even in your present day on your planet have altered in their frequency from what you knew as a child. There has been a change in the frequencies emitted from your central sun and the energy coming through that, for again it is a vessel representing to you a certain stream of life that has existed in the evolvment of all of what is around you, in terms of natural growth and yet you have felt you have needed more. In the phase that you know as your present calendar year there has been a change in that frequency and this is partly because you are attuning to a new area of the universe which is correctly drawing you forward to change the conditions that most people are under present day, and so you are needing to maintain the inflow of the higher frequency pattern.

This has been given to you in this particular group transmissions you have received in the terms of first of all focusing to your point of origin and this now you would be understanding is correcting many of the disturbances in you personally and in your life around you and other people and you would become much more aware of those who do not resonate with you. Each time you return to absorb the energy of the transmissions you are strengthening your own alignment to your particular Source energy. Experience this coming through you as a focus that you could see that you are receiving beams of energy directly. In one sense they are transmitted to you but in another understanding they exist always for you to reconnect yourself to them.

At this point you are directly gathered to be within the portal through which the Star Elders speak to you."

"We come forward and envelop you in the light frequency here that you would feel as a loving support, in your terms, and we must use your terms that you recognise and we do so simply in your phrases, giving you the sense and knowledge that what you do experience in these spaces continually refreshes the patterns and codes within you which allow you to evaluate every aspect of life that you experience - every change - every word that you speak and receive - and initially much of what you speak about is learned responses that you have attained in your development and growth from childhood, some of which has been taught to you in your schooling programmes. As you evolve further and open up to the lines of communication within you, you find much of what you speak changes as it comes forward in a more universal essence, where many of the casual conversations do not exist in this pattern and pathway because much of the casual conversation in the earth plane is detrimental to yourself or to others and will keep you locked into certain time frames and repetitive scenes.

Always the endeavours have been to attune you to the finer patterns of energy allowing you to rise and extend your consciousness further into the highest aspect of your own aspect of creation and then connecting into these areas of support that are presented to you. They are available to all ones on the planet and many do receive them in different ways, so there is a great deal of support and awakening occurring, absolutely necessary at this time as your Earth station is going through internal tremors and change and relocating itself into a higher energy network, higher in the terms of expanded consciousness meeting the aspect of itself that existed in a state coming through universal creative source before it was split into two aspects and you have continued in the aspect that is now restoring the Earth being itself to its original point of creation. You see the similarities with the teachings for your own attunement and alignment and because these transmissions to you are issued in a very wide way you would find that the specifics as they relate to you will come in your own interpretation, because there are many levels presented in these transmissions, so find your own level, extend your awareness into the consciousness state and trust your own sense of interpretation and discernment. You will receive your own confirmation symbols and words many times in these issuances to you and there had been a need to bring you reassurance in this way.

As we conclude our part here and bring you back to Commander Orem, know that you have connected to the higher aspects of your life in its pureness. There is the right order required in that indeed."

"Orem now speaking to you again Beloved.

Now we have a sense amongst us as we come back to the grand communication chamber of people being changed around into different order and frequencies and do you feel that you are moving into a different grouping. Do you feel some of you have a greater intensity of focus around you as if you are now eagerly awaiting new instruction. There is a central grouping involved in this process under the overall overview of the Council of Light and this represents a great inter dimensional connection for you. There are new plans being sent forth to many of you who know how to work certain aspects around you, quite technically - an unusual word in your language - but you have in place the technology to attune to many receiving signals coming in through your planetary system.
