Time: Thursday evening 8 pm

I open the Omega Communications portal and draw you in, gathering everyone who is part of this group. Come forward and link with the greater energy matrix that you connect into - an overriding condition of life experience, This matrix is beyond the normal mass consciousness. You have already attuned to beyond that and it makes it much easier in these group messages to come forward knowing that you have already released the bounds of the Earth and can move easily into the receiving areas of the vessel of light that we link with - just one of many.

"It is here that I come forward and greet you Beloved, speaking to you as an individual and also including the greater group gathered here. Orem speaking to you here and as I help you to adjust your frequencies to this state of beingness, you will be aware that you are present in a different form. In this particular impulse that you are receiving, you have already been transformed from the human element and it's coverings. Here you have come forward in a strong energy system and light and you would see through this, when you observe other beings and if you observe myself as an entity, you are seeing an energy shape and outline and it may appear to you that it is covered in a particular colour, and yet that again is an energy overlaying form and you will see that what you look into is a collection and moving mass of linkages that spark different actions and activities and when you focus in on one of those you will see an energy output that is great. The energy output is measured in terms of what can be seen as intelligent life and also accepting impulses from the universe of creation.

So, here we are presenting you as an energy system and you are participating in the receiving of creative impulses for you to manifest in specific ways. When you are open to receive the creative impulse, the manifestation process then occurs in accordance with a particular downloaded stream of information to you. This is why when you attune to your own point of creation it takes you in a direct line and linkage to the intelligence of the universe and that is beyond any particular grouping or definition. It is the ultimate source from which creative impulse comes through, before it is defined. What you receive always then, through information sources that have that privileged connection through commitment and precise alignment, is given to you so that you carry the true representation of Creative Source into your life, into your complete experience of life, beyond this present collection of energy that you are here in a form on Earth.

And so what was begun as a specific creative manifested universe becomes filled with different activities in accordance with what is brought forth from Creative Source, and as has been given to you, there has been a change over many layers of manifested experience, which changed that original output from Source. So, here with your alignment and attunement to your point of creation and the origin, you are redefining life, you are redefining the planetary influences upon you and you are separating yourself from the mass consciousness that decided and chose to align themselves to something different.

With that, we have your complete attention with this and we draw you into the communication space. Here what is delivered to you goes beyond explanations that you would relate to your physical Earth plane and while you are in this communication chamber and the transmission of the information to you, activity continues around the network surrounding planetary earth system, but because you are separate and closer to the Infinite Creative Source you are able to take on the greater power and influence relative to you and for what you are achieving.

Here in this space again we are taking you into see spaces prepared - living spaces and the cities of light that are already receiving those who consciously walk into such spaces, ready to fulfil particular activities. Around you here is this field of information which aligns you into these spaces of light information.

As you move into this, you will feel the change upon you. This gives you to realise that what you depend on for existence in these states of the higher living existences, relates in a different way to what you have been directed to rely on in the physical state, so when you have understood this, you will know that as you shift in consciousness to become living and existing in these higher frequency spaces, you have no need to bring with you any stores, anything that relates to the earth-plane, because in these greater vibratory areas you are provided with new sets of information that supports the vehicle that you will be living within. The transition into this state has already begun over many of your phases where you have taken on new codes to be read by the processes in the exchange of information through every cell and around every cell in your body. So, there has been the preparation work and there are aspects in your present cellular structures that are ready to receive the different information and out of that will arise this different formation, allowing you to exist within the higher stations of light.

This process has been continuing within you. You may have wondered why you have had different sensations occur and you have felt you have needed to put greater energy into repairing different places within you physically and mentally and emotionally, because it is all one, and when you do move into that state of consciousness where you have realised what you needed was a higher input of energy and not substance, then you realise that much was restored throughout your systems and in fact that disorder had been lifted into a higher level of existence and in that sense it was repaired or restored in some fashion to a higher level of functioning. Your entire presence is being lifted to a higher level of functioning.

At this point in the transmission there is that portal open and through this you are drawn to meet with the group of Star Elders."

"We present this portal to you again at this time and this follows on from the information you have just been receiving in the many ways that you receive it, through hearing and reading and absorbing the pattern presented through the words. In this way that you are being nourished in a different stream of energy for you. This allows you to move beyond the level of existence on planet Earth, coming through to what is presented through this portal. There is a direct linkage here, allowing you to see behind you in a fashion the numbers of beings brought forth, accompanying you to be again presented to the set of circumstances that they will visibly see and understand a new life force happening, preparatory to assisting all ones on planet Earth as it moves through a great change. You are being fed with the information coming through this way and that is sufficient for you in this time. You will be bringing this back into the very depth of physicality.

At this point we close this portal."

"Orem addressing you again here as I reorient you to the communication area.

The familiarity of this space allows you to comprehend and adapt to the realisations of the patterns given to you. Everything that you receive has the ability to change you, and you might have questions arising from that as to why you need to be changed, but as you become more sensitised to the influences you are experiencing on Earth presently, you also realise that you do need to change so that you can withstand the pattern around you, and there are different ways that you can take on the change and adapt to the change. The main one that we have always given you is to draw in the light energy information from your point of origin, for this is particularly suited to you. We began this transmission speaking about this and we conclude this part of the transmission in the same way.

You will be used to moving in and out of this space and moving in and out of the positions that you hold in helping others deal with the change, in particular there is that sphere of information light existing above you each that connects you to the universal matrix. Your point of origin has its position within this and receives the Creative Source imprint through the universal matrix. At the present time this is serving to encompass you each as it provides a form of shielding around you. The vastness of the universe as it comes through in this way to you is needed to come to you in different layers, in different impulses, for as you adapt to each impulse you are shedding the resistances from previous sessions and from information that was absorbed throughout you and now needs to be discharged, allowing the fresh impulses to act within you.

It is likened to taking in a fresh meal each day, fresh vitality, infused with the light information that is transmuted into usable substances and energy throughout you.

Now, as we bring you back to the receiving area, observe from here the overview of your planet. There are many beams of energy coming into it which are affecting different activities that would normally hold it together in one harmonious existence and because it is changing and there are different spheres of energy system within the Earth itself, discharging information and allowing a greater space to occur, then you see the need for the adaptation to a stable source of energy.

There are many connected networks now all holding in place many activities of the planet, as a living being, and also ready to assist the greater population of Earth itself in the changes. We are here in support of you and this concludes this transmission to you this time.

Orem out "

Lani present with you here again, ready to bring you back to Earth. Remember that your energy systems are coming back changed and so your body and intelligence and layers of it will be reworking the information and you will feel you will be adapting, finding a different balance point once more.

Here I thank Orem and the Star Elders for all this energy and I now make sure that you come back fully grounded, completely in control of you and your life experience. Thank you.

I close the Omega Communications portal.
