A gathering to bring through the Blueprint energy

We will speak now and indeed we prefer the term Star Elder in speaking to you at this time and we connect with you from the many levels of your existence prior to how you are presenting yourselves in the Earth mass at this time.

We connect with all those higher aspects of yourself that understand the process that you are experiencing and also the process that reminds you that all that you have spoken about is indeed part of the reality connected to you now, and we would say also that beyond that is the information ready for you to interpret. The information goes beyond your framework of words.

The information is contained in the energy that again is a term "energy" that you can respond to and as it is my joy to share with you the energy that I can embrace you in, I do this with the intention to join with you so that the energy itself you will respond to.

An energy which is part of that Creative element - Source - if you like. We use many terms that you are familiar with and we speak from a level of existence that comes forth to greet you in particular in this space that you have created.

You knew at some point that you would reconnect with the dynamic frequency that brings forth change within you and this change is responding and an outcome of the energy frequencies that you can absorb.

As you are in the present moment, open all of you to absorb the informative energy - in form - in Your form - in all the layers of creation that enable your form to be, and to be receptive.

In speaking about the Earth consciousness - the Earth mass - the Earth planet - the Earth Station, we would say that it is evolving and you are here participating in that evolvment.

There is happening around you the accumulation of a network of information in such a way that opening up to you as individuals and you individually representing consciousness on Earth - is being received in you this knowledge that the change that is being opened and unfolded around you has already been imprinted in your existence, in your consciousness.

We speak about the Blueprint - this imprinting of everything that you are working toward - and the imprint is indeed a plan, but the plan is a living field of information and energy and if you can see as this message is given to you now, you may see intersecting lines of energy. Perhaps maps, perhaps layers of colour or layers of codes.

All this is very relevant to what you are experiencing and expecting to experience. You expect to experience it because you know it is the time to realign yourself to accept fully the Blueprint that is necessary for the Earth to be aligned in its own way, following the energy and support that has come around the planet at this time, where people have been saying "enough. We need to shed what has been restricting us" - and the message has been heard, but understand that message you have sent forth because you knew there was the time to merge completely with a greater field of understanding and livingness.

It has been important for you to experience what you have experienced so that you can wake up and realise "that was not the expectation - that was not part of the plan. It seems that the blueprint that I am aware of did not include the facilities and experiences that have been occurring around the Earth", so now you have been recognised as coming forth from a purer level of understanding to say, "now I am ready to accept this Blueprint, in truth as it exists."

There are ones in their teachings who would say the blueprint is faulty. We would bring you to realise that the infinite creation of the universe unfolding has no fault. What happens as creation comes into manifestation is that there are beings who work on a different level of understanding who would prefer to have control. Whereas, when you are truly aligned with your Blueprint you realise there is no control that can impact upon you and if you are ready in this time, and most of you are, and we address the many who link in and are waiting for the impulse of Connection - we say to you now -

Reconnect yourself to the imprint and Blueprint of your existence as you would know ultimately It Is.

And there is each of you presenting yourself to that aspect that has already completed this merging process. From that perspective there is the separation because you understand there is an aspect that has already completed what you have been opening up to. As you open up to it you come fully into the Oneness of it once more.

We understand that in your existence as you are on Earth there are concepts and dimensional existences that are unfamiliar to you and they must come as a general sense of beingness. And then you do what is necessary. You enhance your life and those ones around you with joyousness, with the fulness of potential and everything you are exposed to and bring into your life - particularly we focus on the reconnection to the higher frequencies, then this becomes you and this you bring in to your world and you stand as a holy individual within Creative Blueprint of Life.

You may feel there has been a settling within you, or you may feel it as a realignment of different aspects of your energy field and sensing and indeed this is what is occurring. You are enveloped in this energy frequency and the Earth also is coming into a clearness.

It has been in a sense, essential for you to be clear and to go beyond doubt, to go beyond consideration and to come into the essence of who you are as a being of light energy information.

This we give to you at this time for this process, for your expansion.

All that is given to you is done in such a way that you may feel, in your terms, a blessing is upon you indeed. This is part of the natural bringing forth of information to you.

Know that you are loved, indeed.

We thank you for this opportunity to bring this energy to you.

Thank you, indeed.
